PUBLIC SERVICE COM. MAKES NEW ORDER

SETTLES BUSINESS RELATIONSHIP OF NEV.-CAL. POWER COMPANY WITH PATRONS

In the case of the Public Service Commission of Nevada, complainant, vs. the Nevada-California Power company, respondent, the following order has been handed down, it appearing in abbreviated form:

Henceforth no contract shall be demanded by the Nevada-California Power company from its patrons as a condition precedent to the rendering of service, except when the service is to be rendered in territory outside of that in which the said company is now rendering service, in which cases said contracts shall be subject to review and modification by this commission. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the parties from voluntarily entering into contracts that are not preferential or discriminatory.

Second—In all cases where proper connections are made so that current may be delivered to a single point, individuals or companies operating different properties under the same management, the reading shall be made as a single one, regardless of the number of parties served, and the rates adjusted accordingly. It is further ordered that with respect to its present customers, the respondent company shall make such connections at its own expense.

Third—Any party purchasing current for power purposes from the said company shall have the privilege of installing a "stand by" or emergency plant, to be used whenever said company, from any cause, may not be able to furnish current, and that in such cases said company shall permit its customers to make suitable connections with its lines for the utilization of said "stand by" plant during the period of said company's inability to furnish service.

Fourth—That the respondent company shall, with all due diligence, install isolating switches so that an interruption of service at one plant will not interfere with another on the same line.

Fifth—This section goes into detail as to the k. v. h. charges to be fixed. It ranges from 3 to 5 cents.

Sixth—The effective date of the said schedule shall be October 1, 1915, except that all customers, whose measurements have been changed from secondary to primary, and who have paid their bills under protest, may settle upon the said basis of schedule up to and including said date.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

MYSTERIOUS DEATH

Bart Ceruti died at his ranch in Antelope valley, 40 miles from Eureka, on the 20th of September, after having drunk from a flask of whiskey he found in the road near his gate. About three months ago he received a blackhand letter through the mail, which warned him not to return to his ranch and advising him to settle up his affairs, as he was shortly to be put out of the way.—Eureka Sentinel.

NEV. "QUICK" WORTH $30,000 THE CARLOAD

L. H. Curtis, a director of the Nevada Cinnabar company, has returned from Northern Nevada, where he went to look over the mine and plant. The ore, which has been put through the furnace, has been averaging nearly half of 1 per cent. The product of the 50-ton mill is shipped east in carload lots. A car contains about 550 tons. As the 75-pound flasks are worth about $30 each, a carload is worth about $30,000. The last carload shipment was in August.—Herald-Republican.

MOTHER IS LOOKING FOR HER LOST SONS

NEBRASKA WOMAN FEARS BOYS HAVE MET WITH MISHAP IN NEVADA

Mrs. Harriet L. Byor of Edgar, Neb., has written to Sheriff Ferrel asking for information about her two sons, Gus S. and Fred O. Byor, last heard from in Nevada several years ago. Mrs. Byor says she fears something has happened to them, says the Journal.

The boys left home, according to Mrs. Byor's letter, 11 years ago, and came to Nevada, going first to Goldfield. She last heard from them when they were leaving for Wadsworth from Goldfield about three years ago. Letters sent to Wadsworth and Goldfield have been returned unclaimed.

A Coupon With Every Purchase

It is said that over 10,000,000 women in this country shop daily, 90 per cent of whom are influenced through advertising to buy a certain article or go to a certain store; hence when a small dealer tells you that advertising doesn't pay, you will find, nine times out of ten, that not only his advertising but his store methods are faulty. He is, very likely, a spasmodic advertiser. He is operating without any particular plan or policy. In short, he is a hot and cold proposition, pretty much like the old rooster in the snow, standing first on one foot, then on the other, trying to avoid getting cold feet, where if he used both feet at the same time, he would get to some place where there wasn't any snow. The advertiser who uses the Daily Bonanza consistently has insured his success.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

Tonight at the Butler the attraction will be a World Film production featuring Janet Beecher in "Fine Feathers," the famous play of woman's vanity and man's weakness, by Eugene Walter. The story is interesting from the moral standpoint as well as from the dramatic. A young wife yearns for an improvement in her worldly position and chooses unworthily means to secure the accomplishment of her desires. Janet Beecher is the woman in the case; she is discontented—she yearns for fine feathers; obtains them by dishonorable means, has a brief career of glitter and glory; and then suffers retribution in company with her weakling husband, who connived at her social exaltation and suffered with her in her fall. It is surely a valuable moral lesson to all who are similarly tempted. The preliminary reel will be a Charles Chaplin Keystone comedy, "The New Professor," which will give everyone an opportunity to laugh—and especially the youngsters, who are great lovers of this popular comedian. Tomorrow, the last number of "The Goddess," which will solve the many problems which have come up in the story, and a Blue Ribbon feature, "The Sins of the Mothers," the $1000 prize winner in the New York Sun scenario contest. You see the great race track scene; you see the inside of the gambling house—the gamblers; you see the raid by her husband; he does not know she is there; you see what happens.—Phone for reserved seats.—Adv.

BAD CHECK ARTIST

A formal complaint against Charles W. Bradley, the young man accused of having issued two fictitious checks on the Riverside hotel, has been sworn to and the young man will probably be called to answer on a felony charge. Bradley was evidently getting ready to leave town in spick and span shape when the officers arrested him.
